QUEEN OF DOPAMINE DECOR

Interior Designer Justine Knox, is internationally renowned for her talent in creating bright and beautiful homes that people love to live in – whether they are their second homes, villas or luxury yachts, Justine is the go-to expert, known as The Queen of Dopamine Decor.

For over 25 years, Justine has been designing beautiful holiday retreats as an expat living in Mallorca. Clients include a range of public figures: the late Alexander McQueen, to international sport stars to comedians to, most recently designing Mark Wright and Michelle Keegan's Mallorca apartment.

Justine is popular for her ability to push clients to be more adventurous and to embrace colour and pattern. She is often inspired by Mediterranean nature and her love of scuba diving.

She says: "I am a people pleaser and what better way to please people than to give them a home that makes them smile and not want to leave it".
